1. All Syracuse University Rules and Regulations, as stated in the publication of the same name, are in effect during the summer months. Copies of Academic Rules and Regulations are available at the Registrar's Office web site, coursecatalog.syr.edu/rules.aspx.

2. Residents may be held financially responsible for damage to residence hall rooms, public areas, and/or apartments.

3. University housing is available on a weekly basis only to students attending a summer session course or University conference. A week of occupancy begins on Sunday and ends at 1 p.m. the following Saturday. Students must depart before 1 p.m. to avoid incurring additional expense.

4. During the first and second summer sessions, undergraduate students residing on North Campus must have a meal plan. In addition to the meal plan, SUpocard Food accounts can be used to purchase food weekdays on an à la carte basis at the Schine Student Center or other Food Services locations in operation during the summer.

5. I.D. cards will be automatically activated for students requesting and paying for a meal plan. Entrance to a dining center is permitted once per meal period. New students may obtain an I.D. card in the I.D. Office, 206 Steele Hall. Meal plans are not transferable.

6. To avoid unauthorized use of a SUpocard Food account, lost or stolen I.D. cards must be reported to the I.D. Office as soon as possible. All meal plans and SUpocard Food accounts end on the last day of each session.

7. South Campus Apartments are available on a six-week minimum basis and should be considered if students require their own bedroom. Apartments are shared with other same-gender students.

8. Housing requests will be honored on a first-come, first-served basis. Housing assignments (room or apartment) will not be made until summer housing and/or meal plans are paid in full prior to arrival. Note: single accommodations on North Campus are available on a very limited basis. If students are assigned to shared accommodations, their bursar accounts will be adjusted accordingly.

9. Residents may be reassigned from one room or apartment to another, or occupancy may be terminated after due notice to the student resulting from recommendation by a professional staff member or appropriate judicial body if the student's continued presence is considered detrimental to the residence environment.

10. Residents must provide their own linens, blankets, and pillows.

Exception: Linen arrangements may be made for select groups or programs for an additional cost. Contact the program coordinator for more information.

11. The nightly housing rate may be charged until proof of housing registration payment is presented to the appropriate housing facility. Such proof must be presented by the close of the next business day after check-in to the housing facility.

12. Smoking is NOT permitted in any of the University's housing facilities.

Refund Policy

1. The Office of Housing, Meal Plan, and I.D. Card Services must be notified of a cancellation or extension of residence. Unless the office is notified otherwise, it is expected that students will occupy a room or apartment under the conditions and during the dates described on the Summer Housing and Meal Plan Application.

2. A student who officially withdraws or leaves a residence facility during a summer session will be charged for the housing and/or meal plan through the end of the week in which he or she leaves.
